

Dear, Followers,

After 15 incredible years as Principal and Artistic Director of The Company Performing Arts, I am proud to share that I have recently been appointed Head of Theatre Qualifications with the ISTD.

Following our production of Aqueous, I will be stepping down from my role at The Company and will no longer be teaching or leading the school.

Whilst this has been an incredibly difficult decision, I do so knowing that The Company is in a strong and thriving position, ready for an exciting new chapter.

It therefore gives me great pleasure to announce Stephanie Cook as the new Principal and owner of The Company Performing Arts who will be working alongside our dedicated teaching team to continue our legacy of quality dance education.

To every student, parent, teacher, alumni and supporter - thank you. Your trust, loyalty and support have helped build something truly special.

I hope you will all be able to join us at the West Cliff Theatre in July for our production of Aqueous and help me celebrate 15 memorable years.

WITH GRATITUDE,

Mr Aaron

ANNOUNCEMENT

NEW CHAPTER

Introducing...

We are delighted to announce the appointment of Stephanie Cook as the new Principal of The Company Performing Arts.

Stephanie Cook is a highly experienced ISTD dance professional and studio leader who currently runs a successful dance studio based in Colchester. She brings with her a wealth of knowledge, expertise, and passion for dance education.

Stephanie is looking forward to continuing the high standard of training that The Company Performing Arts is known for, while also sharing her own experience and creative vision with students and families alike.

Stephanie is committed to upholding the ethos of the school, maintaining the high level of training and regular performing opportunities that students and families have come to value.

We are very excited for this next chapter and look forward to the future under Stephanie's leadership.
